SHORT ILLNESS CLAIMS HEAD OF STATE COLLEGE

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 23.—Dr. F. M. Bralley, president of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton, died of pneumonia, in a hospital here this morning after a short illness. Dr. Bralley was 59 years old and had been at the head of the Denton college for ten years. He served as state superintendent of public instruction in 1910 by appointment and was elected to the post the following term.

DAWES DECLARES KU KLUX KLAN CONTRARY TO U. S. SPIRIT

By the United Press. AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 23.—Declaring that the "Ku Klux Klan is contrary to the letter and spirit of the Constitution," General Charles G. Dawes added his stamp of disapproval to the hooded order here. Like Davis, Dawes expressed the firm belief that the Klan issue "has no proper part in this or any other campaign." Dawes' commitment is regarded a temporary answer to the administration to the challenge made by Davis in his Seaford speech yesterday.

By the United Press. AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 23.—General Charles Dawes formally opened his campaign for election as the Republican vice president, in a speech before Maine Republicans, in which he assailed the "radical labor leaders," as the worst enemies of trades unionism. He dealt with the acceptance speech of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, saying: "The speech of Mr. Davis is indicative of high purpose but also an example of that kind of oratorical presentation of the general principles designed to put to sleep practical thinking as to actual results involved at this time by a challenge in the national administration."

Getting To Be An Annual Event

DALLAS, Aug. 23.—Harvest sales are staged once each year by a local merchant with the object of profit and at the same time the clearance of stock. This is hardly true, however, in the case of L. L. Swanson, employee of the firm. On the day the harvest sale started last year Swanson was presented with a son. This didn't cause so much comment, but when on the opening day of the sale this year the process was repeated, well, that was too much harvest sale for Swanson.

He straightway ordered a theater party in celebration of the event.

American Killed In Honduras Is George Hamilton

By the United Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The American citizen killed near Puerto Bastillo, Honduras, August 21 has been identified by the State department as George Hamilton of Mount Sterling, Ky., who went to South America a few months ago. Marines dispatched to the scene of the killing have not reached there, the message said.

Miss Josephine Reynolds has gone to Dallas for the week-end.

BANDIT KILLED AFTER KILLING TWO OFFICERS

By the United Press. MARQUETTE, Mich., Aug. 23.—Martin Ford, chief of police here; Thomas Thornton, patrolman, and an unidentified bandit, were shot to death in a gun battle when officers attempted the apprehension of the bandits here this morning. The bandit leaped into the river to escape and was killed by other officers after shooting the two police officers.

George Peyton Is Sure of Two More Richland Producers

George Peyton is feeling much encouraged because of the bright prospects ahead of his lease at Richland on which he recently brought in a producer which on the pump is now good for 300 barrels daily. Surrounded by production and activity, he expects the company to send down two more wells, both of which are practically sure of production. The number 2 is now rigging up. The Pure Oil Company is taking the output. Charles Rowan et al Davis is reported flowing by heads. The Gulf company has set casing in its Elkins number 1 at a depth of 2959 feet. The Gulf Elkins number 2 is setting casing. The Gutmans Swink number 3 is rigging up. The Sims Patterson Lake well is setting casing. The McIntyre test in the Richards tract southwest of Richland has reached a depth of 2720 feet since resuming operations the first of the week. This horizon is in a hard lime formation. The McIntyre test has been shut down, pending the completion of its water line from Richland.

YOUNG MAY TAKE REPARATIONS DICTATOR FOR

By the United Press. PARIS, Aug. 23.—Owen D. Young probably will announce his acceptance of the post of "reparations dictator" next week, according to reliable reports from official quarters here. Young refused to make a formal statement but has summoned Rufus Dawes, brother of General Charles Dawes, to Paris to be his assistant.

Prince of Wales Bidden Bon Voyage

By the United Press. SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 23.—While hundreds of Americans mingled with a great crowd that gathered here today to bid him bon voyage, the Prince of Wales, eluded all the sightseers and unobtrusively boarded the Merangaria before dawn this morning.

The prince's trip to America has developed such a social clamor which ranged from the demonstrations of good will on the part of the Britishers who have a very deep affection for him to the ridiculous antics of numerous dowagers who hope he will return a measure of this affection to their daughters, that he was forced to take extreme means to avoid publicity as to his get-away. He stayed part of the night at the home of Lord and Lady Louis Mountbatten at Cowes and before daylight took a launch, accompanied by his brother, Prince George, for the Berengaria.

Mesdames W. R. Hodges, John McElroy, Dr. Dorsett and Rube Maddox enjoyed a luncheon given at the Reunion Grounds by Mrs. Monroe Hitt at their cottage there.

SUCCESSFUL CANDIDATE.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

MISSING FLYER BEING SOUGHT BY RICHMOND STEAMSHIP

ABOARD THE U. S. S. RICHMOND, Aug. 23.—Just 130 miles from Greenland, at the spot where the Destroyer Barry last saw Lieutenant Locatelli, the Italian flyer at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, the U. S. S. Richmond took up its station today to direct the search for the missing aviator. The heavy fog into which Locatelli plunged from sight two days ago was still enveloping the sea waters early this morning. No word had come that Locatelli had been found and Admiral Magruder was waiting only for the mist to lift before putting out the Richmond's seaplanes to begin a search.

The planes will be used between here and the shore while the cruiser Raleigh and destroyer Barry are also scouting along the east coast of Greenland. There are three theories among naval officers as to Locatelli's whereabouts.

1.—That he flew over Greenland, lost his way, ran short of gasoline and was forced to land somewhere on the west coast. This theory is given support by Danish warships which report they heard an airplane headed north from Fredericksdal about 8 p. m. Thursday. Natives along the west coast also report they heard a plane about that time.

2.—That Locatelli descended along the east coast outside the 30-mile coastal pack and is now floating at sea.

3.—That he descended on or inside the ice, in which his plight would be very grave.

Lieutenant Arescault of the Italian navy who is a guest aboard the Richmond, says Locatelli's cruising radius is only 800 miles. He expressed the belief that with four men aboard there would be a food supply ample for six days and a 12 days supply of water. The plane is reported to be seaworthy.

Locatelli is 28 years of age, unmarried and wears five medals for extraordinary courage.

Thrown From Dance Hall, Mexican Will Protest To Gov't.

HOUSTON, Aug. 23.—H. Valdes, Mexican consul here, has declared the possibility of his calling the attention of the Mexican government to the alleged mis-treatment of his fellow citizens at a local dance hall.
Discrimination has been made against two Mexicans by the dance hall management and admittance barred, Valdes said. One of the men insisted on being allowed to enter and was beaten and thrown in jail by a special officer, it was declared.
Houston officials have assured the consul that a full investigation of the matter will be made.
John Phillips Returns from Markets.
John Phillips returned from the New York and St. Louis markets Saturday night after a three weeks stay in these cities.
Mr. Phillips is very much enthused over the outlook of business this fall and states that while away he made purchases to that end. As usual the markets were crowded with buyers from every part of the United States but the markets were found in good condition and deliveries are expected to be made promptly.
Mr. Phillips did not state whether or not he carried his golf sticks with him but it is a pretty safe bet that he did, and that some of those beautiful greens along the route found him battering that old pill just like he does on our own course.
Chancellor Marx Makes Plea Before German Reichstag
By the United Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Chancellor Marx in an impassioned plea before the Reichstag appealed for the ratification of a pact of London. The speech was a prelude to the debate and vote that will decide the fate of the London accord.
As he defended the policies of the German delegates who agreed to the pact he was loudly cheered by the government representatives in the chamber, while the communists booed.

DALLAS, Aug. 23.—With the thermometer standing near the 93 degree mark, J. O. Williams was arraigned in police court here today on a charge of theft of three pairs of blankets and two comforts. Comforts?

COOLIDGE PLANS REPLY TO THE CHALLENGE OF DAVIS

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 22.—President Coolidge will reply to the challenge of John W. Davis, his democratic opponent to join in a public condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan and thereby remove that subject from political debate this year.
This appeared evident today when G. Bascom Sloop, the President's secretary prepared for an exchange of messages with party leaders regarding the manner in which the reply should be made. Whether a decision will be reached while the President is still on his vacation or whether the pronouncement will await his return to Washington is not yet known.
Davis' charges dropped into the quiet of the village here with something akin to a bombshell effect last night. Secretary Sloop together with newspaper men, motored from Woodstock to Colonel Coolidge's home and caught the President just as he was retiring. Mr. Coolidge read the word of the challenge by the light of a lamp in the parlor and then decided to make no statement until he had a full copy of the Davis speech.
Because the Klan issue had nearly wrecked the Democratic convention in New York, Republican leaders had not thought Davis would revive it, and they, in turn, were not anxious to raise the issue within their own ranks. Hence they agree the reply calls for very cautious treatment and the wisest counsel before it is made.
Davis' political interruption of the placid routine of the President's vacation came on the eve of Plymouth's biggest day for its future son. This is the day of the President's reception to his fellow townsmen and neighboring Vermonters and from miles around the folks were trooping in early, dressed in their best. Twenty thousand people are expected at the demonstration of the President's popularity among his own mountain people. The roads for 20 miles in all directions are patrolled by motor police and marked "one way traffic."

MEN AND WOMEN IN NEWS OF THE DAY.

Here: FRANCES A. MILNER, JULIA WARNOCK, Andre CITROEN, JOHN W. WEEKS

Secretary of War John W. Weeks has suggested that citizens' committees in charge of local work in connection with "Defense Day," September 11, should give "the position of honor" to organizations of war mothers. Much mystery surrounds the death of Julia Warnock, Polka beauty, who was found dead in her bathtub in New York City, physicians asserting that she did not die a natural death. Frances Alleen Milner, 15-year-old New York City dancer, eloped with Harry Barker Lennard, of Portland, Me., repeated of it half an hour later, and now seeks an annulment, charging the groom with fraud, because, she says, he told her he had an income of $1,000 a week. Andre Citroen, the Henry Ford of France, is credited with winning 10,000,000 francs in one night playing baccarat at Deauville, France.

SALVATION ARMY TO HOLD FAREWELL MEETING TONIGHT

Higgins-Lewis Wedding.

A beautiful wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 20, at 4:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church at Celeste, when Miss Lyndon Lewis, youngest daughter of Mrs. John H. Lewis of that city became the bride of Mr. Winn Thomas Higgins of Mexia. Rev. Cowles, assistant pastor of the First Baptist church of Greenville officiating with the ring ceremony.

Miss Nell Norris sang as a pre-nuptial solo, "All For You," accompanied at the piano by Miss Thelma Lewis of Mexia, niece of the bride, and Miss Fay Harris with violin obligato, who also furnished the wedding music. Fourteen voices singing Lohengrin's Wedding Chorus entered from the main vestibules meeting at the altar where they crossed and formed a semi-circle as a background.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the ushers entered at opposite aisles followed by the wedding party. The maids attending the bride were Miss Rachel Kerr of Celeste, and Miss Edith Spear of Mexia. Miss Lorene Lewis, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Mrs. Roy A. Jordan of Mexia also sister of the bride was matron of honor.

The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. R. F. Lewis of Mexia. She never looked more charming than on this occasion, gowned in a tailored three-piece costume of navy charmeuse and crepe satin, tastefully applied in autumn shades. Her hat was richly adorned with harmonizing colors of duvelyn. She wore a corsage of brides' roses and a lily of the valley.

The groom was attended by Mr. Rodney Tidwell of Mexia as best man, and Mr. Morris Miller of Commerce and Mr. Dan Barnard of Celeste as groomsmen.

Mr. Higgins is a successful young business man of Mexia, being connected with Higdon-McElroy Company of this city.

FAMOUS FRENCH RECIPES.

Potatoes a la Casse.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—"Potatoes a la casse" really means potatoes in the frying pan. In Bugey the big spider is called the "sosse."

Cut sufficient potatoes into small pieces, and onions as well. Put a little good olive oil into the spider and let heat until smoking. Then, throw in the potatoes and onions. Pile them high in the pan and stir often, allowing them to brown well. Season. Serve hot.

"For Mexia, I Will"

IT'S THE SERVICE THAT COSTS IN FIRE PROTECTION.

Service charges have become a familiar part of every-day life, says the Texas Public Service Information Committee, but it will be a novelty to citizens to learn that fire protection is based upon the same theory as that underlying all service charges.

In fact, the Committee continues, the company that furnishes the water to put out the fire operates entirely on the "service charge" idea and no charge is made for the water itself that is used.

To furnish fire protection a water-works plant must be built so that it can deliver large quantities of water instantly at any point where a fire may occur. This requires larger distributing mains, large pipes, larger reservoirs and larger pumps than would be needed for supplying domestic and industrial consumers only and in addition there is the cost of the fire hydrants and setting them.

It is the interest, maintenance, depreciation and taxes on this larger part of the plant necessary to furnish fire protection, plus the proper operating charges, which make up the cost of service. It is distinctly a "ready-to-serve" charge.

Game Warden Caught In His Own Trap

By the United Press.
PORT ANTIUR, Aug. 23.—Sometimes the setter of traps gets caught. This one, a deputy game warden who has a record for making arrests, not only got caught, but in the presence of witnesses.

A negro boy swinging a big catfish came down the road near Village Creek, while the warden was talking to friends.

"Here boy," the warden shouted, "let's see the fish."

After examination, the warden offered to buy the fish for $2.50. The boy hesitated, refused, hesitated again and finally succumbed to the buying urge of the warden. The money changed hands, and the trap was sprung.

"Now boy," the warden said, "its against the law to sell fish, and I'm a game warden. I guess I'll have to arrest you."

"Yessuh, sho is against the law, but I got me a license right here," and the boy calmly displayed his license to sell fish, and left with the $2.50 tucked away safely.

HOME OWNING HEARTS ARE THE HAPPIEST

By C. C. C. TATUM, President California Real Estate Association.

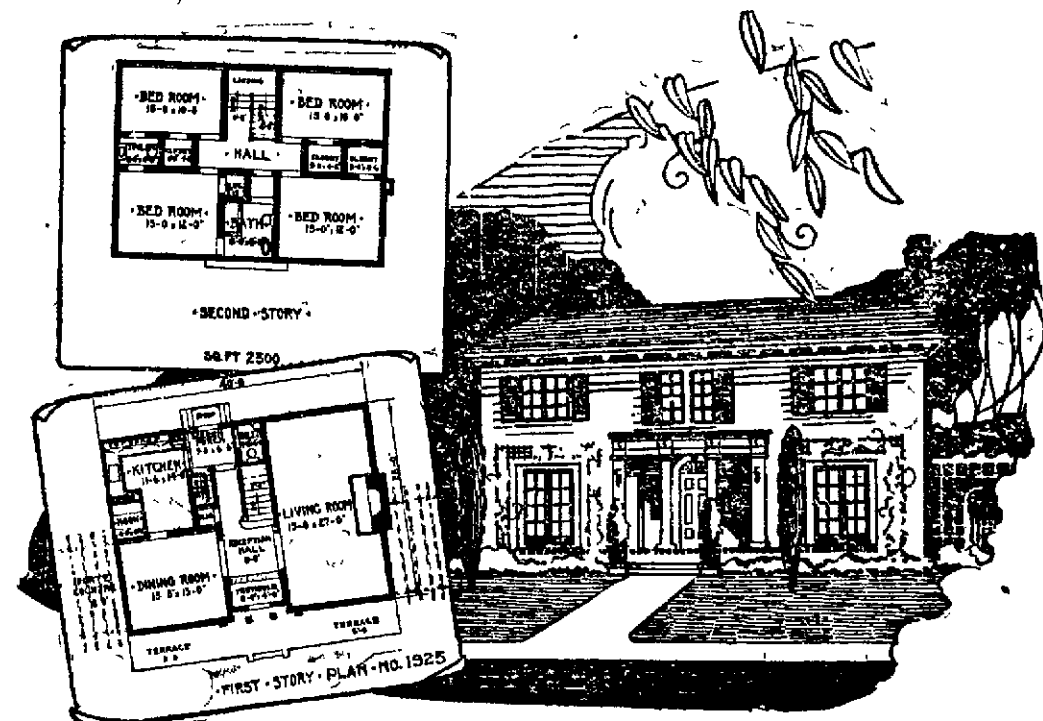

—Real estate is the safest, most permanent conservative investment in the world, and when improved will represent the greatest amount of returns in both money and happiness that you can make.

—Improved real estate is modern insurance, pays daily dividends in dollars, contentment and protection, and is sure to increase in value each year.

—Startling figures are daily called to your attention of unbelievable increases in real estate values, and it is going to continue to increase, with your deriving the benefits if you accept the opportunities real estate offers.

—Every father owes to those near and dear to him a home they can call their own, and broad-minded fathers and mothers are buying lots and lands for their children; they appreciate this is the best means for instilling thrift and saving, and at the same time assures them an independent future. If the heads of all families would only do this the future men and women of our country would be a home-loving, home-owning people.

—To be the owner of desirable ground on which to erect improvements is a privilege, an opportunity that you should accept for yourself and children. Real estate will never be cheaper. Today is the day to buy.

PLAN NO. 1925.

... I AM REAL ESTATE ...

I am the basis of all wealth.

I am the foundation on which have been reared the civilization of all the ages.

I am the pawn for which kings and emperors and legions without number have fought.

Centuries ago boundary lines were drawn across my surface, and I am portioned out among tribes and nations; property rights were established, society came into being, and chaos gave way to law and order.

I am the farm, the mine, and the forest.

You need but to tickle me with a hoe and I laugh with harvest.

Plant a grain of wheat or corn, a seed of flax or cotton, on my broad bosom, and I reproduce a thousand-fold, furnishing food and fabric for all the children of men.

From my depths and mountain-sides are mined all the useful and precious ores and metals.

In my forest are hewn the timbers which pass through lathe and plane into the palace of the prince, the house of the merchant, the humble home of the poor.

I am the Great City, where hundreds of thousands crowd, and men bid vast sum for the privilege of calling a few square feet their own. And as the city grows I become more sought after, and my value vastly increases.

As the population of the earth continues to grow, I shall be in ever-increasing demand, for my area does not expand.

People must live and I am the source of all sustenance.

I bear the burdens of taxation, for the expense of government and the welfare of all the people.

While but few, comparatively, among men claim title of possession, I am the Servant of Mankind.

I do not run away. I cannot be carried off. Fire nor elements can destroy me. I stand through the ravages of Time.

That is why I am called Real Estate.

—LAWRENCE MILLER.

Electronist Cure Is Fake, Is Verdict Of Investigators

"The so-called Electronist Reactions of Abrams do not exist." This is the verdict of the Scientific American Abrams Investigation Committee, which for nearly a year has subjected to the acid test of science the revolutionary technique for the diagnosis and treatment of disease which has swept the country. So widely have the Abrams' disciples and their imitators operated and so extravagant have been their claims that the movement has threatened to upset the entire theory of the medical profession. Its adherents have hailed it as holding out a new hope for suffering humanity; its foes have condemned it as the greatest piece of charlatanism in history.

"These so-called reactions are without diagnosis value," continues the committee's report, which is published in full in the September issue of the Scientific American. "The Abrams oscilloclast, intended to restore the proper electronic conditions in the diseased or ailing body, is barren of real therapeutic value. The entire Abrams electronic technique, as well as the many variations of this technique, is not worthy of serious attention. At best it is all an illusion. At worst, it is a colossal fraud."

At a time when the public was making its first acquaintance with the electronic theory of matter, Dr. Abrams of San Francisco startled the country with the announcement that he had discovered electrons to be the real basis of life and the foundation of good health and ill health. Even a drop of blood, he asserted, contained millions upon millions of these electrons, and they, in turn, furnished the true picture of the state of one's health, if they could only be gathered, sorted out or tuned after the fashion of a radio receiver and then detected. By the use of a resistance box, which he called a reflexophone, he worked out what was believed to be a new method of diagnosis, which he asserted he could detect accurately cancer, tuberculosis, syphilis and other pathological conditions, long before orthodox medicine even suspected them.

Testing a single drop of blood by the new device, Dr. Abrams predicted, would reveal how old the donor was, what was his race and religion, what diseases he was suffering from, what disease might be expected in the future and what was his expectancy of life.

To cure the diseases purported to be discovered by the reflexophone, Dr. Abrams devised an instrument known as the oscilloclast. This instrument, which ticked away very much after the fashion of a piano student's metronome, was said to furnish electronic waves of such character as to smash or effect the destructive electronic waves within the patient's body and thus restore the balance.

Converts by the thousands have flocked to the new theory. Dr. Abrams opened a school to teach the application of his methods. A huge mail order business was opened in the diagnosis of disease. All the patient had to do, to find out what was the matter with him, was to prick his finger and send a drop of blood on a piece of blotting paper to the doctor.

Many reputable physicians have been taken in by the new theory. The number of their patients and the size of their fees has multiplied enormously with the installation of the new apparatus. Imitators have sprung up. At the height of its popularity there were 11 different variations of the Abrams apparatus in this country alone. The Abrams simon-pure method alone has had 3,500 practitioners; the other methods have had thousands more and their patients have run into the hundreds of thousands.

The American Medical Association denounced the entire theory as unsound and unscientific. Strength was

Joe Barnett

Broadcasting Director Explains Public's Peculiar Likes and Dislikes

As managing director of station WOR, L. Bamberger and Company, Newark, New Jersey, handsome Joe Barnett gets more than ten thousand letters every day.

"An unique collection," he muses. "Nearly one-fifth of those who write hint delicately that they would like to broadcast some experiences they consider interesting. Others suggest subjects which they claim would make interesting hearing."

"Not long ago a snake charmer indignantly wrote to know why we had nothing in our programs about snakes. She said reptiles were the most unjustly maligned of all God's creatures and should be set right by a little well deserved publicity."

"Men usually request talks on mechanics and women ask for fashions, but recently we've had that just reversed. At least one thousand women have asked for automobile information, and a number of men have sought advice on what to wear."

Mr. Barnett says radio audiences prefer popular to classical music, and just now are especially addicted to "Mr. Radio Man" and other music with a radio theme, especially when like "Mr. Radio Man," it is written in fox-trot time, and can therefore furnish a porch dance.

given to the Abrams adherents, however, by the endorsement of prominent men. Sir James Barr, past president of the British Medical Association, linked himself with the Abrams technique. Upton Sinclair, the writer, spent some time in the laboratory of Dr. Abrams and wrote a glowing story of the marvels he saw. Two magazines, "Pearson's" and "Progress," took up the cudgel in behalf of the new theory.

At this point the Scientific American named an impartial committee to determine once and for all, in a clearcut scientific manner, whether the electronists or the doctors were right. This committee comprised Dr. William H. Park, director of the Bureau of Laboratories of the New York Health Department and consulting bacteriologist of the New York State Department of Health and of the United States Quarantine Service; Dr. Wilmer C. Alvarez, associate professor of Research Medicine in the George Williams Cooper Foundation for Medical Research, University of California; Robert C. Post, well-known engineer and the president of Englewood Hospital; J. Malcolm Bird, associate editor of the "Scientific American," and Austin C. Lescaurba, secretary of the committee and managing editor of the Scientific American.

Reporting for the committee, Mr. Lescaurba states: "Thousands of doctors and near-doctors have entered the electronic fold. They have gone about their work of diagnosing and treating that part of the public which seeks something new in medicine as well as in clothes and automobiles. So-called radio men have found lucrative employment in working for electronists as engineers. Many a small manufacturer has found a profitable field in turning out all manner of pseudo-radio devices called electronic diagnosis and treatment apparatus. And all of this activity comes right down to the so-called electronic reactions of Abrams, which, according to this committee, do not exist.

"Meanwhile this electronic development has caused a sad state of affairs in this world of ours. It has given rise to all sorts of occultism in medicine. It has been a renaissance of the black magic of medieval times. It has given free reign to idiotic ideas—ideas which would formerly have been laughed out of existence at their very start. Suffering humanity has been made so many lavish promises of late that it is a sad disillusion now to go back to our conservative orthodox medicine, which, after all, remains our mainstay.

"There may be a time, and that not so far distant, when we shall have worked out some method of harnessing the very delicate currents within the human body for the purpose of accurate diagnosis. Already we have the wonderful electro-cardiograph, which enables us to detect the effect on the heart action caused by taking a puff from a cigarette. An ultra-sensitive galvanometer will detect human emotions in a general sort of way. Here and there serious workers are endeavoring to study these delicate electrical currents within the body.

"However, when the day arrives for the practical application of such serious research work, we may be certain that it will have nothing in common with the passing electronic craze. In so far as concerns the apparatus employed, the methods of exploitation, or the qualifications of the men engaged in the work, it will be wholly without resemblance to the cults whose basic ideas and whose technique this committee denounces."

Dr. Abrams died suddenly of pneumonia on Jan. 13, in the midst of the "Scientific American" investigation. His death came on the eve of his scheduled appearance as the star witness in the trial of Dr. Mary Le-

Frank Smith Will Drill Another Well Near Groesbeck

(Groesbeck Journal)
GROESBECK, Aug. 23—Announcement was made here this week that T. Frank Smith and associates have completed arrangements for another well in the Groesbeck area. The oil fraternity, who are well acquainted with the judgment of Mr. Smith, hail this announcement of his new venture in this area with greatest interest and his test will have the unshared interest of all people interested in oil development. The derrick is said to be up and the machinery on the location and being set up and it is expected that the well will be started within a week.
This test well will be located on the Rich Kennedy farm about 1200 to 1500 feet west of the Texas-Stroud No. 1 and about three and a half miles northwest of Groesbeck. It will be recalled that the Stroud No. 1 was the first of four wells drilled by the Texas Company on their holdings here and that it was the furthest west, the others all running toward the east. It will also be remembered that the Stroud No. 1 gave every evidence of being an edge well with a mighty good showing for production in that immediate section.
The new location made by Mr. Smith will test out the most interesting structure in the field and its progress will be watched with intense interest, not only locally but by the oil fraternity generally.

Buchanan and His Boys to Go to Alaska Again in 1925

George E. Buchanan, a wealthy bachelor of Detroit, has a theory that a trip to Alaska during the formative period of a boy's life, coupled with the business training learned by a boy who makes such a trip under his guidance, is a wonderful asset. In 1923 some 46 of "Buchanan's Boys" went to Alaska with Buchanan, and in July 1925 he will take 100 more on a similar trip on one of the "Princess" steamers of the Canadian Pacific to Skagway, the gateway to Lake Bennett, Miles Canyon, White Horse Rapids, Lake Atlin and other places known the world over during and since the rush of gold seekers to the Klondike. The boys will go over White Pass and see the mighty Yukon down which the argonauts voyaged in their search for the precious yellow metal.
In describing his Alaska plan for boys, Buchanan tells about one of his office boys who came to him with a beautiful black eye. "Who gave you that black eye?" the boss inquired.
"Nobody!" declared the boy, "I had to fight for it!"
That's what "Buchanan's Boys" have to do if they earn a trip to Alaska, except that the slogan is changed to "I had to work for it!" If a boy wants to go in July 1925 he first gets his parents' consent. The total cost of the trip from Detroit to Alaska and return is $375, of which the boy earns one third, his parents pay one third and Buchanan loans the boy the remaining third, to be repaid when the lad is a man, or earlier, if he so desires. When one boy pays up, Buchanan uses the money to help another boy go to Alaska. The entire $375 is handed to a boy who earns his third and he buys his own transportation, makes his own arrangements, space and food.
Buchanan shows them how. Elsewhere they can earn the cash in any honest way, provided they do not neglect school. "Any boy anywhere can go," Buchanan said recently, "and I would like to have in the party one from every nationality in the United States and Canada. They would learn to know and understand each other better."

THE BABY

On what kind of days should a baby not go out?
In sharp winds, when the ground is covered with melting snow, and when it is extremely cold. A child under eight months old should not usually go out if the thermometer is below freezing point.
What is the most important thing to be attended to when the child is out in its carriage?
To see that the wind never blows in its face, that its feet are properly covered and warm and that the sun is never allowed to shine directly into its eyes, when the child is either asleep or awake.
Of what advantage to the child is going out?
Fresh air is required to renew and purify the blood, and that is just as necessary for health and growth as proper food.
Gas Shut Off Sunday.
On account of the Lone Star Gas Company putting their mains in shape for winter, they will shut off the gas from 8 o'clock Sunday morning until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, Aug. 24, 1924.

Tonsils and Adenoids

Letter No. 6
Giving the Child a Better Chance.
IS YOUR CHILD HANDICAPPED?
Does your child's nose run or is it sore? Does the child snuffle? Are the eyes red? Are there fever sores or eczema around the nose and mouth? Does the child seem dull? Does stand and look at you with open mouth?
If your fender has gotten bent or your body dented or a spring broken, call us. We can fix it just as good as new. Phone 725. Pat F. Hopkins Wheel & Body Works, West Milam St.

Does it put its hands to its head as though it had earache? Does it take cold easily?
Does the child sleep with its mouth open? Does it snore?
If the answer to any of these is Yes, ask the doctor if the child has adenoids or large tonsils.
Tonsils
Tonsils often become diseased and stick out into the throat. Sometimes they do not get any larger but become diseased and contain little cysts filled with infection. These diseased tonsils often hold poisonous germs which may cause throat trouble or may be carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness.
Adenoids
Adenoids look like a little head of cauliflower, colored red. They grow in the back part of the throat where the nose and throat join, and can be seen only by the doctor with a special mirror. They stop up the nose and make the child breathe through its mouth.
When the child breathes through the mouth, much dust and many germs get into the body.
Adenoids should always be removed.
Earache
Earache often means that the child has adenoids. Earache always means that the child is in danger of getting deaf. Also the child is in danger of getting a running ear and there is danger of the disease reaching the brain. A running ear should always be treated by an ear doctor, it will not get well without good care.
Large Glands
Often poison gathers in the nose,

throat or ears. The glands of the neck try to carry this poison away. This overwork makes the glands enlarge and lumps often form.
Other Diseases
Diseased tonsils and adenoids hold poisonous germs which frequently are carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness. Rheumatism and heart disease often come in this way. These germs also cause stomach, bowel or lung disease.
A child with adenoids and diseased tonsils can get diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough very easily. Such a child will have the disease worse than a child who has had adenoids and diseased tonsils removed.
Stupid Children
Often children who seem stupid and who do not learn rapidly can be made healthy and normal by the removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.
It is wrong to blame children for backwardness when they cannot hear, see or smell properly or are suffering from pains from diseased tonsils or adenoids.
Have Them Removed
Adenoids and diseased tonsils can be removed at any time of the year. Don't wait, thinking they will get better. It is dangerous. The child may lose its hearing if you put it off.
Watch carefully for the danger signals—mouth breathing and earache.
Always go to a good doctor at once.
Will be glad to make examination free and explain in detail.

S. M. U. To Have Four Coaches For Coming Session

DALLAS, Aug. 23.—Four coaches will direct the destinies of the Mustangs in all branches of sport during the coming year. Morrison, Freeland and Brooks, all members of the 1929-30 coaching staff will be assisted by J. W. St. Claire, formerly head coach at the North Texas State Teachers College.

Morrison and Freeland burst into the hall of fame in 1923 by producing a football team that was undefeated and scored on but twice; winning nine consecutive games for the conference title. Morrison will devote his time to the backs, ends, and offensive play, while Freeland will direct the line of defense.

Morrison taught in the summer school of coaches at S. M. U. this summer, and is spending the remainder of his time in his old home in McKenzie, Tenn., resting up for the arduous duties of the coming season. He is one of the greatest athletes ever produced at Vanderbilt University, and has studied under several famous coaches. In addition to football, he will supervise the work of the department of Physical Education, and teach a number of special courses for students who desire to become coaches.

Freeland is a graduate of the University of Michigan school of coaches under the staff headed by "Hurricane" Vost, and shares with Morrison the honor of being one of Vanderbilt's best. After his work in the coaching school this summer he returned to his farm to get in shape for the coming football season. In addition to handling football Freeland will teach in the coaching courses given during the regular school year.

John Lee Brooks, Graduate of S. M. U. will share with St. Claire the task of directing Freshmen athletes. He has studied in the University of Illinois coaches' school under Zuppke, wizard of football. In addition to football, Brooks will train the cross-country team, and assist in track work.

J. W. St. Claire will have charge of Freshman sports and Varsity basketball, and will complete the staff of coaches. He has been very successful with his cage teams at the Denton school, and with the wealth of material on hand should make a good showing at S. M. U. He will replace Harry A. Faulkner, former S. M. U. Fresh mentor, who is now in charge of Terrell School athletics.

BLACK CATS LEAVE FOR CAMP MONDAY

Friday night about 25 football candidates of the Mexia Hi Black Cats met at the High School building with Coach Ernest H. Potest to discuss the plans for a football camp which will be held at Lampasas beginning Monday, Aug. 12.

Coach Potest stated that arrangements had been made with the Chamber of Commerce of Lampasas for the use of the camp grounds and ball park there and that they would be given reduced rates for a ticket for use of the swimming pool.

Each boy will have to get a way for himself to the camp and will have to carry all of his bedding, eating utensils, bathing suits, and any other supplies that they may need.

Coach Potest will leave for Lampasas Sunday and have all of the equipment on the grounds, and will have the cooks prepare for the first meal which will be Monday night. He stated that a bulletin board would be kept and all of the boys would be expected to follow any rules set forth on it.

There are several of the old letter men who are going to enter school in some of the leading colleges in the State who are going to make the trip with the Cats and get in training for the coming season.

Each man was issued a suit Friday night and all are ready to go. If possible they will send articles to the paper and let the fans know how they are progressing.

Generous Gift To Ex-Students Texas U.

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—Announcement is made of a gift of $5,000 recently received by the Ex-Students Association of the University of Texas from F. W. Sampson of Atlanta, Ga., to be used by the Executive Council as it may see fit in memory of Mr. Sampson's father, Thornton Rogers Sampson. The latter was an ex-student of the University, and served as general agent for the Conference for Education in Texas, and in that position demonstrated his devotion to education in this State, it is recorded.

He was a missionary for the Presbyterian church in Greece, Salonika, India, China, and Japan, but spent the last twenty years of his life in Texas. He was president of Austin College, at Sherman, and later was president of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. With former President W. E. Meeks it is said that he brought the Seminary into close working relation with the University.

Dr. Sampson was last seen on Sept. 2, 1915, on a Colorado mountain by some climbers who were tramping in an opposite direction. In a severe snowstorm that swept the mountains the next day he was lost.

Ford Smokeless Ship Plying On The Great Lakes

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 23.—With 12,000 tons of coal beneath her hatch, for delivery here the Diesel equipped motor ship Bunsen Ford, the first iron ore carrier of the Ford fleet berthed here at 7 a. m. Aug. 12. Captain Daniels reported an excellent trip while chief engineer Walter Kitchen declared the performance of the 3,000-horsepower Sun-Doxford Diesel engines most satisfactory, no trouble of any kind being experienced. To effect minor adjustments to the steering equipment the anchor was dropped outside of Port Huron for a few hours. These adjustments, although anticipated, could not be made until the boat had been tested under load and actual running conditions.

The coal she carries was taken on board at Toledo, Ohio, and came from the Ford collieries in Kentucky. On the return trip she will carry iron ore for the Rouge plant from Ford mines in upper Michigan. On the way to Toledo to pick up her first cargo the big freighter was inspected by Mr. Ford and a number of company officials, the flagship Sialla escorting her part of the way.

The Bunsen Ford was built at the Great Lakes Engineering Works, Ecorse, Mich. She is 612 feet long with 66-foot beam and a draft of 21 feet, and when she swung out of her berth at Ecorse into the Detroit river channel the entire absence of smoke from her stack made her conspicuous among the shipping craft. However, a stock on a Diesel motor ship is not built for smoke but instead of house exhaust silencers for the great internal combustion engines.

Among other unusual features in equipment the latest addition to the Ford fleet carries the first radio compass ever used on the Great Lakes. On Lake Erie during the run from Ecorse to Toledo music from broadcasting stations in Detroit and Cleveland served to determine the boat's exact position. This innovation in modern navigation practically eliminates the hazard—the bane of shipping since water transportation began.

Hellenmaria Shied Off From Camera

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—A battery of movie photographers faced General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, when he passed through here yesterday en route to Maine.

"Oh, the devil, what's that for," the general quipped as he faced the prying operators.

Friends later explained that Dawes thought the operators were trying to mug him in connection with a movie serial.

PARIS STYLE HINTS.

By ALICE L'ANGELIER, (International News Service Staff)
PARIS, Aug. 23.—History says that umbrellas first came into fashion during the second half of the sixteenth century. There were, very few at first for ladies were busy with household duties and when ready to go out for a breath of air, could wait until the sky took on the color of a bluebird.

It is a long way from those days to the busy ones of the 20th century, when madame trots about the street's rain or shine.

"The Smallest Umbrella Shop in the World," is one of Paris' most unique spots, is only unimportant in actual size and not in the quality of the charming umbrellas that come from the hands of the designer. All, of course are shot and convenient to handle. The long umbrella is now about as obsolete as the old-fashioned lat-pin. The materials are of the choicest silks, in all colors and designs, and the handles are particularly attractive. France, Italy, Spain and China have contributed choice wood carvings to make them. There are many with mosaic and handles, as rich in color as Chinese cloisonne.

A nigger brown has a handle of three large carved beads, taken for one of the ancient rosaries the Franciscan monks used to carry. A gray protector has a simple handle covered with a gray bird skin, and a navy-blue one has edges of red, yellow and black Roman stripes with a carved ivory handle and ivory tips. A piece of rose quartz has been fluted into a charming one and is awaiting its rose silk covering.

One of the newest styles is the umbrella carrying the purse. The handle is pierced through and threaded with a silk cord, from which hangs the purse, usually, in tooled leather. It followed close upon the coming of the hold-all handle, furnished with the necessary make-up and a little mirror for cover. Another novelty is the handle which forms a cigarette box and holds as many cigarettes as madame can smoke. Still another has a little button to press, which opens up the handle and brings forth a cigarette lighter, very handy when no matches are around.

In Hindustan the annual rainfall averages 30 to 40 inches a year, increasing towards the east.

Turney To Defend Title In America With Tom Gibbons

By the United Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Articles signing Gene Turney, American light-heavyweight champion, to defend his title against Tommy Gibbons in Madison Square Garden on Nov. 21, are expected to be signed today.

One half of the match was closed late yesterday when Tex Rickard's terms for a percentage of the gate receipts were accepted by Eddie Kane, manager for Gibbons.

Reports that Gibbons was demanding $100,000 were denied by Rickard and by Kane. Rickard offered a percentage of the receipts in compliance with the rules of the boxing commission and it was accepted.

Billy Gibson who handles Turney said several days ago that Turney wanted the match but he insisted that Turney was worth more money than Gibbons. Rickard made him an offer, and told him to take it or leave it and went to Saratoga Springs to look over Luis Angel Firpo, who is training there for his coming fight with Harry Wills.

With Gibbons signed and ready to go Turney is placed in the position where he must accept the match or give evidence of being unwilling to meet the St. Paul boxer.

"We know positively that Jack Kerns will never give us another match with Dempsey and we have given up," Kane said today.

"Tom is working better now than he ever has and we're going to accept any reasonable offers that come our way."

Kane said he would be willing to sign Gibbons for a match with Jack Renault, the Canadian champion, who is now being steamed up as a heavy-weight challenger.

DID YOU LOSE? or DID YOU WIN?

For the past few weeks and especially for the last few days, all you could hear, on the street corners and elsewhere was politics. Life-long friends have said things to each other that has caused hard feelings that will last forever.

TOO BAD THAT SUCH IS THE CASE

Life is too short for people to fuss and fume around about a thing like that. Each man has a right to his opinion, and we know it is impossible for everybody to see things alike and for everybody to vote alike.

In Yesterday's Election you may have won, and you may have lost—we don't know which side you were on, that's your business and not ours.

We are serving the public and we are trying to do it as efficiently as possible. We covet the friendship and good will of every one, and if we have an enemy in Mexia or anywhere else we don't know it.

Please remember, you might have lost in yesterday's election, but when you spend your dollars and dimes with Higdon-McElroy Co. you never lose. Every purchase from our store carries with it a guarantee of Absolute Satisfaction.

Thrown From Dance Hall, Mexican Will Protest To Gov't.

HOUSTON, Aug. 23.—H. Valdes, Mexican consul here, has declared the possibility of his calling the attention of the Mexican government to the alleged mis-treatment of his fellow citizens at a local dance hall.

Discrimination has been made against two Mexicans by the dance hall management and admittance barred, Valdes said. One of the men insisted on being allowed to enter and was beaten and thrown in jail by a special officer, it was declared.

Houston officials have assured the consul that a full investigation of the matter will be made.

John Phillips Returns from Markets.
John Phillips returned from the New York and St. Louis markets Saturday night after a three week's stay in these cities.

Mr. Phillips is very much enthused over the outlook of business this fall and states that while away he made purchases to that end. As usual the markets were crowded with buyers from every part of the United States but the markets were found in good condition and deliveries are expected to be made promptly.

Mr. Phillips did not state whether or not he carried his golf sticks with him but it is a pretty safe bet that he did, and that some of those beautiful greens along the route found him battering that old pill just like he does on our own course.

COOLIDGE PLANS REPLY TO THE CHALLENGE OF DAVIS

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Aug. 22.—President Coolidge will reply to the challenge of John W. Davis, his democratic opponent to join in a public condemnation of the Ku Klux Klan and thereby remove that subject from political debate this year.

This appeared evident today when C. Bascom Sloop, the President's secretary prepared for an exchange of messages with party leaders regarding the manner in which the reply should be made. Whether a decision will be reached while the President is still on his vacation or whether the pronouncement will await his return to Washington is not yet known.

Davis' charges dropped into the quiet of the village here with something akin to a bombshell effect last night. Secretary Sloop together with newspaper men, motored from Woodstock to Colonel Coolidge's home and caught the President just as he was retiring. Mr. Coolidge read the word of the challenge by the light of a lamp in the parlor and then decided to make no statement until he had a full copy of the Davis speech.

Because the Klan issue had nearly wrecked the Democratic convention in New York, Republican leaders had not thought Davis would revive it, and they, in turn, were not anxious to raise the issue within their own ranks. Hence they agree the reply calls for very cautious treatment and the wisest counsel before it is made.

Davis' political interruption of the placid routine of the President's vacation came on the eve of Plymouth's biggest day for its future son. This is the day of the President's reception to his fellow townsmen and neighboring Vermonters and from miles around the folks were trooping in early, dressed in their best. Twenty thousand people are expected at the demonstration of the President's popularity among his own mountain people. The roads for 20 miles in all directions are patrolled by motor police and marked "one way traffic."

Much mystery surrounds the death of Julia Warnock, 30-year-old New York City dancer, eloped with Harry Parker Lessard, of Portland, Me., repented of it half an hour later, and now seeks an annulment, charging the groom with fraud, because, she says, he told her he had an income of $1,000 a week. Potatoes a la Casse.

PARIS, Aug. 23.—"Potatoes a la casse" really means potatoes in the frying pan. In Bugy the big spider is called the "sosse."

Cut sufficient potatoes into small pieces, and onions as well. Put a little good olive oil into the spider and let heat until smoking. Then, throw in the potatoes and onions. Pile them high in the pan and stir often, allowing them to brown well. Season. Serve hot.

An Agreement.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. — The signature of the liquor treaty with the Netherlands at the State department here was accompanied by an interchange of notes between the United States and Holland, stipulating that if in event this government adheres to the world court, the two nations will refer certain disputes to that tribunal for settlement.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

IT'S THE SERVICE THAT COSTS IN FIRE PROTECTION.

Service charges have become a familiar part of every-day life, says the Texas Public Service Information Committee, but it will be a novelty to citizens to learn that fire protection is based upon the same theory as that underlying all service charges.

In fact, the Committee continues, the company that furnishes the water to put out the fire operates entirely on the "service charge" idea and no charge is made for the water itself that is used.

To furnish fire protection a water-works plant must be built so that it can deliver large quantities of water instantly at any point where a fire may occur. This requires larger distributing mains, large pipes, large reservoirs and larger pumps than would be needed for supplying domestic and industrial consumers only and in addition there is the cost of the fire hydrants and setting them.

It is the interest, maintenance, depreciation and taxes on this larger part of the plant necessary to furnish fire protection, plus the proper operating charges, which make up the cost of service. It is distinctly a "ready-to-serve" charge.

Interesting Beltless Frocks

Fashion Clings to the slender silhouette

Straight lines are continued in all of the advance models from Paris for fall wear. This particularly pleasing frock is carried out in fine silk crepe trimmed with ribbon.

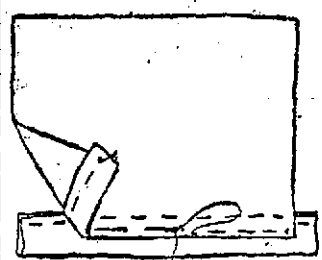

Figured silk crepe—with the figures in self-color—combined with plain crepe are used most effectively in the development of this French frock. It is straight and beltless, the side-ties being for ornamentation.

rather than service. The individual note in the model is the narrow yoke and armhole bands, outlined with novelty ribbon in a shade of brown much darker than the dress itself. If preferred, plain bias piping could be used instead of ribbon.

The illustration shows the method of applying the bias piping for trimming purposes. To obtain a perfect bias edge, fold a straight crosswise and lengthwise edge together. That is, take the crosswise edge of material and fold it along the selvage. Cut on the folded line, allow 1/4 of an inch for finishing, also width for the piping, the facing and the finishing of the facing.

Now, turn under the edge of the garment that is to have the bias facing, whether it be the neck, lower edge of the yoke or the armhole. Next, turn under the edge of the facing on the width line of the piping and on the turning line of the facing. Baste both edges. Apply the facing to the edge of the garment. Allow the width of the piping (to extend beyond the edge of the garment. Finish either with machine or hand-stitching.

The lower edge of the dress is also finished with a facing, but this may be replaced by a hem, if preferred. Frocks of this type are most effective for the afternoon tea or informal dinner. The upper edges of the front are gathered slightly on either side. This model could be duplicated in serge, flannel or twill, with sleeves added, for general daytime wear.

Game Warden Caught In His Own Trap

By the United Press.

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 23.—Sometimes the setter of traps gets caught. This one, a deputy game warden who has a record for making arrests, not only got caught, but in the presence of witnesses.

A negro boy swinging a big catfish came down the road near Village Creek, while the warden was talking to friends.

"Here boy," the warden shouted, "let's see the fish."

After examination, the warden offered to buy the fish for $2.50. The boy hesitated, refused, hesitated again and finally succumbed to the buying urge of the warden. The money changed hands, and the trap was sprung.

"Now boy," the warden said, "its against the law to sell fish, and I'm a game warden. I guess I'll have to arrest you."

"Yessuh, sho is against the law, but I got me a license right here," and the boy calmly displayed his license to sell fish, and left with the $2.50 tucked away safely.

Robbed by "Friends."

TRINIDAD, Colo., Aug. 23.—Two "friends" held up and relieved him of $14,000 in cash. John Mexes, restaurant man of this city informed the police. Mexes had been saving his money and was planning to leave last night for a trip to his old home in Europe, when the friends offered to take him for a ride.

HOME OWNING HEARTS ARE THE HAPPIEST

By C. C. C. TATUM, President California Real Estate Association.

—Real estate is the safest, most permanent conservative investment in the world, and when improved will represent the greatest amount of returns in both money and happiness that you can make.

—Improved real estate is modern insurance, pays daily dividends in dollars, contentment and protection, and is sure to increase in value each year.

—Startling figures are daily called to your attention of unbelievable increases in real estate values, and it is going to continue to increase, with your deriving the benefits if you accept the opportunities real estate offers.

—Every father owes to those near and dear to him a home they can call their own, and broad-minded fathers and mothers are buying lots and lands for their children; they appreciate this is the best means for instilling thrift and saving, and at the same time assures them an independent future. If the heads of all families would only do this the future men and women of our country would be a home-loving, home-owning people.

—To be the owner of desirable ground on which to erect improvements is a privilege, an opportunity that you should accept for yourself and children. Real estate will never be cheaper. Today is the day to buy.

... I AM REAL ESTATE ...

I am the basis of all wealth.

I am the foundation on which have been reared the civilization of all the ages.

I am the pawn for which kings and emperors and legions without number have fought.

Centuries ago boundary lines were drawn across my surface, and I am portioned out among tribes and nations; property rights were established, society came into being, and chaos gave way to law and order.

I am the farm, the mine, and the forest.

You need but to tickle me with a hoe and I laugh with harvest.

Plant a grain of wheat or corn, a seed of flax or cotton, on my broad bosom, and I reproduce a thousand-fold, furnishing food and fabric for all the children of men.

From my depths and mountain-sides are mined all the useful and precious ores and metals.

In my forest are hewn the timbers which pass through lathe and plane into the palace of the prince, the house of the merchant, the humble home of the poor.

I am the Great City, where hundreds of thousands crowd, and men bid vast sum for the privilege of calling a few square feet their own. And as the city grows I become more sought after, and my value vastly increases.

As the population of the earth continues to grow, I shall be in ever-increasing demand, for my area does not expand.

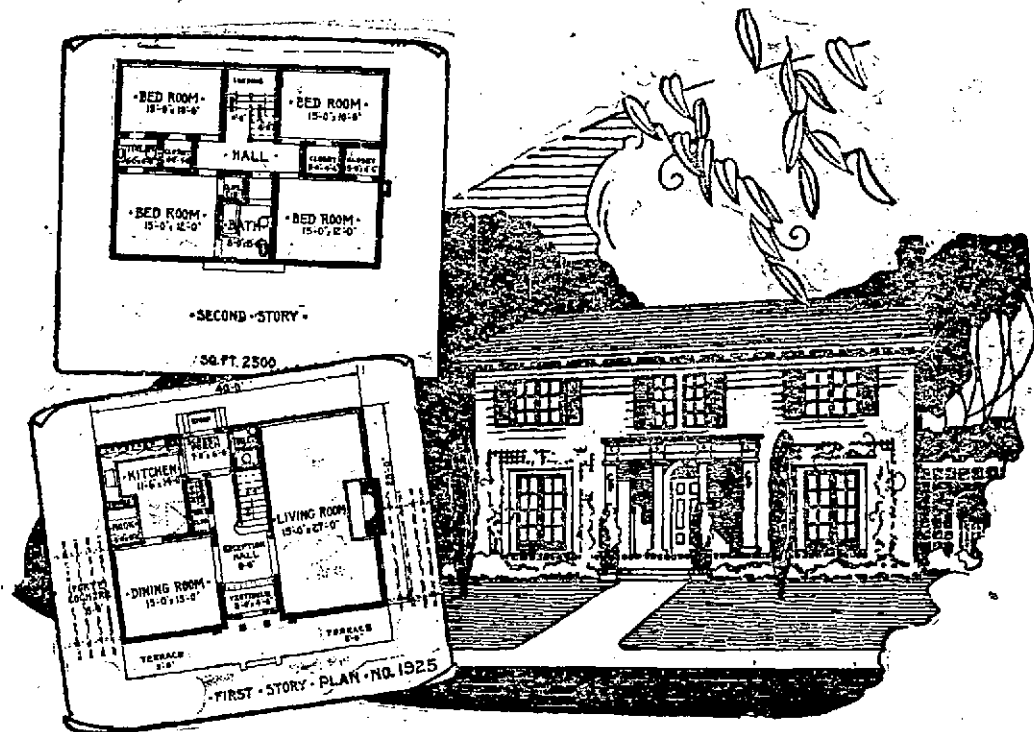

People must live and I am the source of all sustenance.

I bear the burdens of taxation, for the expense of government and the welfare of all the people.

While but few, comparatively, among men claim title of possession, I am the Servant of Mankind.

I do not run away. I cannot be carried off. Fire nor elements can destroy me. I stand through the ravages of Time.

That is why I am called Real Estate.
—LAWRENCE MILLER.

Electronist Cure Is Fake, Is Verdict Of Investigators

"The so-called Electronist Reactions of Abrams do not exist."

This is the verdict of the Scientific American Abrams Investigation Committee, which for nearly a year has subjected to the acid test of science the revolutionary technique for the diagnosis and treatment of disease which has swept the country. So widely have the Abrams' disciples and their imitators operated and so extravagant have been their claims that the movement has threatened to upset the entire theory of the medical profession. Its adherents have hailed it as holding out a new hope for suffering humanity; its foes have condemned it as the greatest piece of charlatanism in history.

"These so-called reactions are without diagnosis value," continues the committee's report, which is published in full in the September issue of the Scientific American. "The Abrams oscilloclast, intended to restore the proper electronic conditions in the diseased or ailing body, is barren of real therapeutic value. The entire Abrams electronic technique, as well as the many variations of this technique, is not worthy of serious attention. At best it is all an illusion. At worst, it is a colossal fraud."

At a time when the public was making its first acquaintance with the electronic theory of matter, Dr. Abrams of San Francisco startled the country with the announcement that he had discovered electrons to be the real basis of life and the foundation of good health and ill health. Even a drop of blood, he asserted, contained millions upon millions of these electrons, and they, in turn, furnished the true picture of the state of one's health, if they could only be gathered, sorted out or tuned after the fashion of a radio receiver and then detected. By the use of a resistance box, which he called a reflexophone, he worked out what was believed to be a new method of diagnosis, which he asserted he could detect accurately cancer, tuberculosis, syphilis and other pathological conditions, long before orthodox medicine even suspected them.

Testing a single drop of blood by the new device, Dr. Abrams predicted, would reveal how old the donor was, what was his race and religion, what diseases he was suffering from, what disease might be expected in the future and what was his expectancy of life.

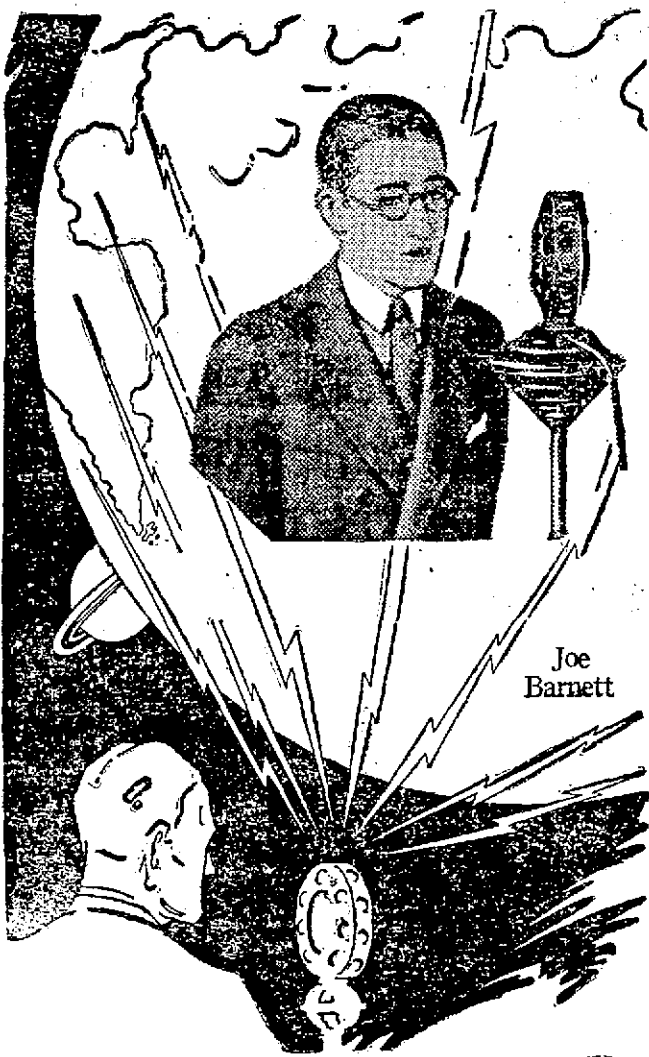

To cure the diseases purported to be discovered by the reflexophone, Dr. Abrams devised an instrument known as the oscilloclast. This instrument, which ticked away very much after the fashion of a piano student's metronome, was said to furnish electronic waves of such character as to smash or offset the destructive electronic waves within the patient's body and thus restore the balance.

Converts by the thousands have flocked to the new theory, Dr. Abrams opened a school to teach the application of his methods. A huge mail order business was opened in the diagnosis of disease. All the patient had to do, to find out what was the matter with him, was to prick his finger and send a drop of blood on a piece of blotting paper to the doctor.

Many reputable physicians have been taken in by the new theory. The number of their patients and the size of their fees has multiplied enormously with the installation of the new apparatus. Imitators have sprung up. At the height of its popularity there were 44 different variations of the Abrams apparatus in this country alone. The Abrams simon-pure method alone has had 3,500 practitioners; the other methods have had thousands more and their patients have run into the hundreds of thousands.

The American Medical Association denounced the entire theory as unsound and unscientific. Strength was given to the Abrams adherents, however, by the endorsement of prominent men. Sir James Barr, past president of the British Medical Association, linked himself with the Abrams technique. Upton Sinclair, the writer, spent some time in the laboratory of Dr. Abrams and wrote a glowing story of the marvels he saw. Two magazines, "Pearson's" and "Progress," took up the cudgel in behalf of the new theory.

At this point the Scientific American named an impartial committee to determine once and for all, in a clear-cut scientific manner, whether the electronists or the doctors were right. This committee comprised Dr. William H. Park, director of the Bureau of Laboratories of the New York State Department of Health and of the United States Quarantine Service; Dr. Wilmer C. Alvarez, associate professor of Research Medicine in the George Williams Cooper Foundation for Medical Research, University of California; Robert C. Post, well-known engineer and the president of Englewood Hospital; J. Malcolm Bird, associate editor of the "Scientific American," and Austin C. Lescarboura, secretary of the committee and managing editor of the Scientific American.

Reporting for the committee, Mr. Lescarboura states: "Thousands of doctors and near-doctors have entered the electronic fold. They have gone about their work of diagnosing and treating that part of the public which seeks something new in medicine as well as in clothes and automobiles. So-called radio men have found lucrative employment in working for electronists as engineers. Many a small manufacturer has found a profitable field in turning out all manner of pseudo-radio devices called electronic diagnosis and treatment apparatus. And all of this activity comes right down to the so-called electronic reactions of Abrams, which, according to this committee, do not exist.

"Meanwhile this electronic development has caused a sad state of affairs in this world of ours. It has given rise to all sorts of occultism in medicine. It has been a renaissance of the black magic of medieval times. It has given free reign to idiotic ideas—ideas which would formerly have been laughed out of existence at their very start. Suffering humanity has been made so many lavish promises of late that it is a sad disillusion now to go back to our conservative orthodox medicine, which, after all, remains our mainstay."

"There may be a time, and that not so far distant, when we shall have worked out some method of harnessing the very delicate currents within the human body for the purpose of accurate diagnosis. Already we have the wonderful electro-cardiograph, which enables us to detect the effect on the heart action caused by taking a puff from a cigarette. An ultra-sensitive galvanometer will detect human emotions in a general sort of way. Here and there serious workers are endeavoring to study these delicate electrical currents within the body."

"However, when the day arrives for the practical application of such serious research work, we may be certain that it will have nothing in common with the passing electronic craze. In so far as concerns the apparatus employed, the methods of exploitation, or the qualifications of the men engaged in the work, it will be wholly without resemblance to the cults whose basic ideas and whose technique this committee denounces."

Dr. Abrams died suddenly of pneumonia on Jan. 13, in the midst of the "Scientific American" investigation. His death came on the eve of his scheduled appearance as the star witness in the trial of Dr. Mary Le-

Frank Smith Will Drill Another Well Near Groesbeck

(Groesbeck Journal)

GROESBECK, Aug. 23—Announcement was made here this week that T. Frank Smith and associates have completed arrangements for another well in the Groesbeck area. The oil fraternity, who are well acquainted with the judgment of Mr. Smith, hail this announcement of his new venture in this area with greatest interest and his test will have the undivided interest of all people interested in oil development. The derrick is said to be up and the machinery on the location and being set up and it is expected that the well will be started within a week.

This test will be located on the Rich Kennedy farm about 1200 to 1500 feet west of the Texas-Stroud No. 1 and about three and a half miles northwest of Groesbeck. It will be recalled that the Stroud No. 1 was the first of four wells drilled by the Texas Company on their holdings here and that it was the furthest west, the others all running toward the east. It will also be remembered that the Stroud No. 1 gave every evidence of being an adge well with a mighty good showing for production in that immediate section.

The new location made by Mr. Smith will test out the most interesting structure in the field and its progress will be watched with intense interest, not only locally but by the oil fraternity generally.

Buchanan and His Boys to Go to Alaska Again in 1925

BUCHANAN AND HIS BOYS ON Mendenhall Glacier at 9 P.M.

BUCHANAN SEES A BRITISH COLUMBIA FIRE

George E. Buchanan, a wealthy bachelor of Detroit, has a theory that a trip to Alaska during the formative period of a boy's life, coupled with the business training learned by a boy who makes such a trip under his guidance, is a wonderful asset. In 1923 some 46 of "Buchanan's Boys" went to Alaska with Buchanan, and in July 1925 he will take 100 more on a similar trip on one of the "Princess" steamers of the Canadian Pacific to Skagway, the gateway to Lake Bennett, Miles Canyon, White Horse Rapids, Lake Atlin and other places known the world over during and since the rush of gold seekers to the Klondike. The boys will go over White Pass and see the mighty Yukon down which the argonauts voyaged in their search for the precious yellow metal. In describing his Alaska plan for boys, Buchanan tells about one of his office boys who came in with a beautiful black eye. "Who gave you that black eye?" the boss inquired. "Nobody," declared the boy, "I had to fight for it!" That's what "Buchanan's Boys" have to do if they earn a trip to Alaska, except that the slogan is changed to "I had to work for it!" If a boy wants to go in July 1925 he first gets his parents' consent. The total cost of the trip from Detroit to Alaska and return is $375, of which the boy earns one third, his parents pay one third and Buchanan loans the boy the remaining third, to be repaid when the lad is a man, or earlier, if he so desires. When one boy pays up, Buchanan uses the money to help another boy go to Alaska. The entire $375 is handed to a boy who earns his third and he buys his own transportation, makes his own arrangements for food, clothing, coal, cone, pencils, etc., and Buchanan shows them how. Elsewhere they can earn the cash in any honest way, provided they do not neglect school. "Any boy anywhere can go," Buchanan said recently, "and I would like to have in the party one from every nationality in the United States and Canada. They would learn to know and understand each other better."

THE BABY

On what kind of days should a baby not go out?

In sharp winds, when the ground is covered with melting snow, and when it is extremely cold. A child under eight months old should not usually go out if the thermometer is below freezing point.

What is the most important thing to be attended to when the child is out in its carriage?

To see that the wind never blows in its face, that its feet are properly covered and warm and that the sun is never allowed to shine directly into its eyes, when the child is either asleep or awake.

Of what advantage to the child is going out?

Fresh air is required to renew and purify the blood, and that is just as necessary for health and growth as proper food.

it stand and look at you with open mouth?

Does it put its hands to its head as though it had earache? Does it take cold easily?

Does the child sleep with its mouth open? Does it snore?

If the answer to any of these is Yes, ask the doctor if the child has adenoids or large tonsils.

Tonsils

Tonsils often become diseased and stick out into the throat. Sometimes they do not get any larger but become diseased and contain little cups filled with infection. These diseased tonsils often hold poisonous germs which may cause throat trouble or may be carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness.

Adenoids

Adenoids look like a little head of cauliflower, colored red. They grow in the back part of the throat where the nose and throat join, and can be seen only by the doctor with a special mirror. They stop up the nose and make the child breathe through its mouth.

When the child breathes through the mouth, much dust and many germs get into the body.

Adenoids should always be removed.

Earache

Earache often means that the child has adenoids. Earache always means that the child is in danger of getting deaf. Also the child is in danger of getting a running ear, and there is danger of the disease reaching the brain. A running ear should always be treated by an ear doctor, it will not get well without good care.

Large Glands

Often poison gathers in the nose,

throat or ears. The glands of the neck try to carry this poison away. This overwork makes the glands enlarge and lumps often form.

Other Diseases

Diseased tonsils and adenoids hold poisonous germs which frequently are carried to other parts of the body and cause sickness. Rheumatism and heart disease often come in this way. These germs also cause stomach, bowel or lung disease.

A child with adenoids and diseased tonsils can get diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and whooping cough very easily. Such a child will have the disease worse than a child who has had adenoids and diseased tonsils removed.

Stupid Children

Often children who seem stupid and who do not learn rapidly can be made healthy and normal by the removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids.

It is wrong to blame children for backwardness when they cannot hear, see or smell properly or are suffering from pains from diseased tonsils or adenoids.

Have Them Removed

Adenoids and diseased tonsils can be removed at any time of the year. Don't wait, thinking they will get better. It is dangerous. The child may lose its hearing if you put it off.

Watch carefully for the danger signals—mouth breathing and earache.

Always go to a good doctor at once.

Will be glad to make examination free and explain in detail.

S. M. U. To Have Four Coaches For Coming Session

DALLAS, Aug. 23.—Four coaches will direct the destinies of the Mustangs in all branches of sport during the coming year. Morrison, Freeland and Brooks, all members of the 1923-24 coaching staff will be assisted by J. W. St. Claire, formerly head coach at the North Texas State Teachers College.

Morrison and Freeland burst into the hall of fame in 1923 by producing a football team that was undefeated and scored on but twice; winning nine consecutive games for the conference title. Morrison will devote his time to the backs, ends, and offensive play, while Freeland will direct the line of defense.

Morrison taught in the summer school of coaches at S. M. U. this summer, and is spending the remainder of his time in his old home in McKenzie, Tenn., resting up for the arduous duties of the coming season. He is one of the greatest athletes ever produced at Vanderbilt University, and has studied under several famous coaches. In addition to football, he will supervise the work of the department of Physical Education, and teach a number of special courses for students who desire to become coaches.

Freeland is a graduate of the University of Michigan school of coaches under the staff headed by "Hurricane" Yost, and shares with Morrison the honor of being one of Vanderbilt's best. After his work in the coaching school this summer he returned to his farm to get in shape for the coming football season. In addition to handling football Freeland will teach in the coaching courses given during the regular school year.

John Lee Brooks, Graduate of S. M. U., will share with St. Claire the task of directing Freshman athletics. He has studied in the University of Illinois coaches' school under Zuppke, wizard of football. In addition to football, Brooks will train the cross-country team, and assist in track work.

J. W. St. Claire will have charge of Freshman sports and Varsity basketball, and will complete the staff of coaches. He has been very successful with his cage teams at the Denton school, and with the wealth of material on hand should make a good showing at S. M. U. He will replace Harry A. Faulkner, former S. M. U. Freshman mentor, who is now in charge of Terril School athletics.

BLACK CATS LEAVE FOR CAMP MONDAY

Friday night about 23 football candidates of the Mexia Hi Black Cats met at the High School building with Coach Ernest H. Poteet to discuss the plans for a football camp which will be held at Lampasas beginning Monday, Aug. 12.

Coach Poteet stated that arrangements had been made with the Chamber of Commerce of Lampasas for the use of the camp grounds and ball park there and that they would be given reduced rates for a ticket for use of the swimming pool.

Each boy will have to get a way for himself to the camp and will have to carry all of his bedding, eating utensils, bathing suits, and any other supplies that they may need.

Coach Poteet will leave for Lampasas Sunday and have all of the equipment on the grounds, and will have the cooks prepare for the first meal which will be Monday night. He stated that a bulletin board would be kept and all of the boys would be expected to follow any rules set forth on it.

There are several of the old letter men who are going to enter school in some of the leading colleges in the State who are going to make the trip with the Cats and get in training for the coming season.

Each man was issued a suit Friday night and all are ready to go. If possible they will send articles to the paper and let the fans know how they are progressing.

Generous Gift To Ex-Students Texas U.

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—Announcement is made of a gift of $5,000 recently received by the Ex-Students Association of the University of Texas from F. W. Sampson of Atlanta, Ga., to be used by the Executive Council as it may see fit in memory of Mr. Sampson's father, Thornton Rogers Sampson. The latter was an ex-student of the University, and served as general agent for the Conference for Education in Texas, and in that position demonstrated his devotion to education in this State, it is recorded.

He was a missionary for the Presbyterian church in Greece, Salonika, India, China, and Japan, but spent the last twenty years of his life in Texas. He was president of Austin College, at Sherman, and later was president of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. With former President W. E. Meazs it is said that he brought the Seminary into close working relation with the University.

Dr. Sampson was last seen on Sept. 2, 1915, on a Colorado mountain by some climbers who were tramping in an opposite direction. In a severe snowstorm that swept the mountains the next day he was lost.

Ford Smokeless Ship Plying On The Great Lakes

DULUTH, Minn., Aug. 23.—With 12,000 tons of coal beneath her hatch-covers for delivery here the Deisel equipped motor ship Benson Ford, the first iron ore carrier of the Ford fleet berthed here at 7 a. m. Aug. 22. Captain Daniels reported an excellent trip while chief engineer Walter Kitchen declared the performance of the 3,000-horsepower Sun-Doxford Diesel engines most satisfactory, no trouble of any kind being experienced. To effect minor adjustments to the steering equipment the anchor was dropped outside of Port Huron for a few hours. These adjustments, although anticipated, could not be made until the boat had been tested under load and actual running conditions.

The coal she carries was taken on board at Toledo, Ohio, and came from the Ford collieries in Kentucky. On the return trip she will carry iron ore for the Rouge plant from Ford mines in upper Michigan. On the way to Toledo to pick up her first cargo the big freighter was inspected by Mr. Ford and a number of company officials, the flagship Sialia escorting her part of the way.

The Benson Ford was built at the Great Lakes Engineering Works, Ecorse, Mich. She is 612 feet long with 66-foot beam and a draft of 21 feet, and when she swung out of her berth at Ecorse into the Detroit river channel the entire absence of smoke from her stack made her conspicuous among the shipping craft. However, a stock on a Deisel motor ship is not built for smoke but instead of house exhaust silencers for the great internal combustion engines.

Among other unusual features in equipment the latest addition to the Ford fleet carries the first radio compass ever used on the Great Lakes. On Lake Erie during the run from Ecorse to Toledo music from broadcasting stations in Detroit and Cleveland served to determine the boat's exact position. This innovation in modern navigation practically eliminates fog hazard—the bane of shipping since water transportation began.

Hellenmaria Shied Off From Camera

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—A battery of movie photographers faced General Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential candidate, when he passed through here yesterday en route to Maine.

"Oh, the devil, what's that for," the general queried as he faced the grinning operators.

Friends later explained that Dawes thought the operators were trying to mug him in connection with a movie serial.

PARIS STYLE HINTS.

By ALICE LANGELIER, (International News Service Staff)
PARIS, Aug. 23.—History says that umbrellas first came into fashion during the second half of the sixteenth century. There were very few at first for ladies were busy with household duties and when ready to go out for a breath of air, could wait until the sky took on the color of a bluebird.

It is a long cry from those days to the busy ones of the 20th century, when madame trots about the streets rain or shine.

"The Smallest Umbrella Shop in the World," is one of Paris' most unique spots, is only unimportant in actual size and not in the quality of the charming umbrellas that come from the hands of the designer. All, of course are short and convenient to handle. The long umbrella is now about as obsolete as the old-fashioned hat-pin. The materials are of the choicest silks, in all colors and designs, and the handles are particularly attractive. France, Italy, Spain and China have contributed choice wood carvings to make them. There are many with mosaic head handles, as rich in color as Chinese cloisonne.

A nigger brown has a handle of three large carved beads, taken for one of the ancient rosaries the Franciscan monks used to carry. A gray protector has a simple handle covered with a gray lizardskin, and a navy-blue one has edges of red, yellow and black Roman stripes, with a carved ivory handle and ivory tips. A piece of rose quartz has been fashioned into a charming one and is awaiting its rose-silk covering.

One of the newest styles is the umbrella carrying the purse. The handle is pierced through and threaded with a silk cord, from which hangs the purse, usually in tooled leather. It followed close upon the coming of the hold-all handle, furnished with the necessary make-up and a little mirror for cover. Another novelty is the handle which forms a cigarette box and holds as many cigarettes as madame can smoke. Still another has a little button to press, which opens up the handle and brings forth a cigarette lighter, very handy when no matches are around.

In Hindustan the annual rainfall averages 30 to 40 inches a year, increasing towards the east.

Turney To Defend Title In America With Tom Gibbons

By the United Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Articles signing Gene Turney, American light-heavyweight champion, to defend his title against Tommy Gibbons, in Madison Square Garden on Nov. 21, are expected to be signed today.

One half of the match was closed late yesterday when Tex Rickard's terms for a percentage of the gate receipts were accepted by Eddie Kane, manager for Gibbons.

Reports that Gibbons was demanding $100,000 were denied by Rickard, and by Kane. Rickard offered a percentage of the receipts in compliance with the rules of the boxing commission and it was accepted.

Billy Gibson who handles Turney said several days ago that Turney wanted the match but he insisted that Turney was worth more money than Gibbons. Rickard made him an offer, and told him to take it or leave it and went to Saratoga Springs to look over Luis Angel Firpo, who is training there for his coming fight with Harry Wills.

With Gibbons signed and ready to go Turney is placed in the position where he must accept the match or give evidence of being unwilling to meet the St. Paul boxer.

"We know positively that Jack Kerns will never give us another match with Dempsey and we have given up," Kane said today.

"Tom is working better now than he ever has and we're going to accept any reasonable offers that come our way."

Kane said he would be willing to sign Gibbons for a match with Jack Renault, the Canadian champion, who is now being steamed up as a heavy-weight challenger.

DID YOU LOSE? or DID YOU WIN?

For the past few weeks and especially for the last few days, all you could hear, on the street corners and elsewhere was politics. Life-long friends have said things to each other that has caused hard feelings that will last forever.

TOO BAD THAT SUCH IS THE CASE

Life is too short for people to fuss and fume around about a thing like that. Each man has a right to his opinion, and we know it is impossible for everybody to see things alike and for everybody to vote alike.

In Yesterday's Election you may have won, and you may have lost—we don't know which side you were on, that's your business and not ours.

We are serving the public and we are trying to do it as efficiently as possible. We covet the friendship and good will of every one, and if we have an enemy in Mexia or anywhere else we don't know it.

Please remember, you might have lost in yesterday's election, but when you spend your dollars and dimes with Higdon-McElroy Co. you never lose. Every purchase from our store carries with it a guarantee of Absolute Satisfaction.
